

SOCIETY READY; WINTER SEASON

Gay Company and Bright Health-stones Drive Dull Care Away.

VOICE OF THE ROOTER HEARD
All Richmond Society Takes a Deep Interest in Foot-Ball.

Here, and There.
To be over yonder where, fresh from the grasses,
The fragrance blows softly o'er dew-laden hills,
To catch the quick word of the wind as it passes
And hear the low answer from murmuring rills,
To feel the soft kiss of the neighboring ocean,
To "sing" to each pleasure that Nature can give,
Ah, that is the name of human emotion, Ah, that is to live.
To know that the herald of day is o'er-flushing
With pennons of crimson the sky in the East,
That every soft cloud in the heaven is blushing Like cheeks of a maid from a lover releas't,
To cage up the heart in a smoke-hegirt city,
And strive, ever vainly, to stifle its cry, Ah, that is misfortune deserving of pity, Ah, that is to die.
—Mabel Porter Pitts.

Autumn.
That these beautiful days should often be alluded to as "the saddest of the year" is incomprehensible. It is true that summer is but lingering for a farewell nod and that winter is just approaching.
But why should winter be regarded as sad? To be sure, the Old Year dies in the winter; but it is not also the New Year born, and does not winter bring with it Thanksgiving and Christmas, two seasons which are often called the happiest of the year? Oh, yes! vacation is over and the winter's work must be taken up; but then, is there anything sad in work? To city people at least, winter is the gayest, brightest part of the year. It is summer, with its deserted beaches and sun-baked streets, that is sad.
The year itself seems determined to die bravely, and for the occasion dons his robes of most brilliant hues.
No; winter is not sad, unless we make it so.

The Foot-Ball Season.
And the voice of the "rooter" is heard in the land. Richmond society is ever interested in college life, and foot-ball comes in for a large share of attention.
What can be more exhilarating than the whoops from the bleachers, or the struggles of the swaying mass out on the field, or the final touchdown?
What can be more beautiful and inspiring than the brilliant splashes of color made by the blue and orange, or the crimson and red, or the crimson and blue?
Or what can be more tender than the care of a team for its injured member?
Or what can be more noble than the spirit of generosity existing between victor and vanquished? Truly the gamut of emotions, from exultation to sorrow and sympathy, may be run at a single foot-ball game.

Richmond is to have several great games this season, as well as the usual complement of minor ones. The Virginia-Carolina game, which has become a regular feature of Thanksgiving Day, will be played in Norfolk this year; but, in spite of that, a goodly showing will be had here. Let the society maiden take down her college flags and give them a preparatory flutter, for soon she will have urgent need of them.

Tea at the Club.
Tea will be served at the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon from 5 to 8 o'clock. The first entertainment for this season will take place on Monday afternoon, October 23, when Miss Nannie Davis, who has come to make her home in Richmond, will give a piano recital.
Miss Boice at the Conservatory.

Owing to the demand and applications for education and physical culture, the Richmond Conservatory of Music has secured Miss Senaj De France Boice, of Washington, D. C., to conduct that department. Miss Boice is a native of the South's most talented readers, and will be pleasantly remembered here, having conducted the department of education in the Richmond Female Seminary two years ago, where her recitals were pronounced the best ever given here. The conservatory is fortunate in securing Miss Boice.

Porch Party.
Mrs. Thomas S. Williamson, of No. 1912 Main Street, Danville, Va., gave a porch party Saturday afternoon in honor of her guests, Mrs. Thomas Pittman, Spencer and Miss Mammie Spencer, of New York. The color scheme was in pink and green, and Mrs. Williamson, with her returning to New York, will visit Mrs.

E. E. Lovelace, of Lynchburg.

Engagement Announced.
Dr. and Mrs. George Fiske Keese announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Louise, to Mr. Oscar Pollard Redford. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride, No. 213 South Third Street, on Wednesday morning, October 4th, at 11 o'clock.

Reception at Park Place.
One of the most delightful events of the coming week will be the reception to be given by the ladies of the Home Mission Society of Park Place Methodist Church on Thursday evening, September 28th. In the lecture room which, since the recent improvements made, has been greatly beautified and is now most attractive and complete in all its appointments. A charming musical programme has been arranged, as well as other interesting features, and delicious refreshments will be served. The hours of the reception will be from 8:30 to 11 o'clock, and the ladies cordially invite all the members and friends of Park Place Church.

Engagement of Miss Mufford.
Mr. Edwin House Mufford announces the engagement of his sister, M. Matthe, to Dr. James H. Pharr, of Dunlop, W.
Va. The marriage will take place in October in the home of Mr. Mufford.

Wright, near Cockeysville, Md.

Miss Alice N. Parker will be glad to see applications for the Richmond Training School for Kindergarten teachers by appointment over the telephone or at 510 E.
Franklin. Prospects for the school are very bright this year. It is necessary for all who wish to take the course to be present the first day.

The Sheltering Arms Hospital has reopened for the winter, with Miss Whitehead as superintendent, and an efficient corps of nurses. Many applications have already been received, and the ladies who have it in charge expect to do greater work than ever this winter.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., Sept. 23.— Mrs. Wright and her daughter, Miss Theodora Wright, gave an elegant reception at their home "Federal Hill," on Hanover Street, in this city, on Tuesday evening from 4 to 10 o'clock in honor of the guests, Mrs. Dickinson and Miss Dickinson, of Richmond; Miss Randolph, of Richmond, and Mrs. Vining, of Washington.
Elegant refreshments were served, and sweet songs were rendered by several vocalists. There were many callers.

Master William Marshall, Jr., the bright little son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Garnet King, celebrated his fourth birthday at the home of his parents on Tuesday evening from 4 to 6 o'clock. The party of the residence were decorated with Chinese lanterns, and sweets and fruits were served. A huge cake on one of the tables was lighted with four candles.
There were more than fifty little guests and friends of the young host present, and each child was presented with a slice of the cake and a souvenir.

Master A. C. Phillips, Jr., of Washington, gave a birthday party a few evenings ago at the home of his grandmother, Mrs.
Lucy W. Herndon, in this city, at which many of his young friends were invited, over team of the Old Church in the half-mile game, Mr. C. C. Timberlake won the saddle and bridle as the best rider in the tournament and Mr.

Oma Mills won the halter.

A Shoe for Comfort. A Shoe for Style.

The E-Z CUSHION TURN SHOE FOR WOMEN possesses this remarkable combination, JOHN KELLY made this shoe to our special order for the winter trade. Remarkable for style, and it contains Comfort in an unusual degree.

The E-Z Shoe contains a felt insole that conforms to the shape of the sole of the foot, giving ease in walking and removing the jar in walking that so often gives one a headache. Also, keeps out dampness and cold. A great shoe for teachers and those who stand or walk a great deal. The price is

Opening Displays.

The interest in this fashion event and the resultant business are without precedent. Never have we recorded such a large volume of sales so early in the season.

As an Opening—a Beauty Show —it was extremely successful; and, in point of value, the high record of sales proves that our prices were accepted with equal favor and appreciation.

Among the New Attractions for to-morrow are several Paris models especially purchased as "Show Pieces" for opening days. But they reached us only yesterday. These belated arrivals will receive their initial presentation to-morrow. Like birds, none of these Model Hats stay long.

Your best opportunity for selection and economy is the present.
Just now our displays are replete with these coveted Paris Hats and our—Paris inspired Hats—not from Paris, but like Paris (except in price).

Semi-Costumes and Tailored Suits

Faultlessly Fashioned.

FOR a generation this section has been to Richmond what Wanamaker is to New York—supreme authority on women's garments. The perfection of fabrics and ideal touches of fashion evinced in these five numbers selected for brief mention to-day may be regarded as SPECI-MEN VALUES.

In its entirety this section's showing of Women's Apparel will more than maintain the unique position it has acquired—acquired by values such as these.

50-inch Coat Suit, of the severely tailored models, buttons through, built of wide wide grey chevrot, taffeta lined, full plaited skirt. Especially priced at $27.50.

50-inch Coat Suit, of fine plum-color broadcloth, fly front, all seams lapped, lined throughout with grey satin, closely plaited skirt, $30.00.

Fancy Double-Breasted Eton, of imported broadcloth, in green; the Eton shows a vest front of Persian braid, collarless and cuffs of silk velvet, beautifully lined with satin; skirt of the new model, plaited front and back, with circular skirts, $37.50.

An Exclusive Semi-Costume, of broadcloth, in blue—Eton model, its short sleeves finished with rich lace frills; both the Eton and skirt elaborately trimmed with silk braid, $42.50.

50-inch Fitted Coat Suit, of finest quality broadcloth, its shawl collar and cuffs of silk velvet, elaborated with fancy braid; fancy knee plaited skirt; the coat is lined with taffeta, FIFTY DOLLARS.

SOMERSET BEACH TO BE IMPROVED

Public Spirited Citizen Erects Bridge at His Own Expense.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
COMORN, VA., Sept. 23.—Since Somerset Beach, the new summer resort on the Potomac, in this county, was leased to a syndicate of colored people in Washington several years ago, it has been feared and predicted that the place would never grow to any considerable size or importance. Regular excursion boats from Washington have brought vast multitudes of colored folk to the "Beach" each season, and it has been a great and popular resort for the colored people of this county and of Charles county, Md., just opposite; but the white people, of course, have derived neither pleasure nor pleasure from it. Mr. F. W.
Payne, the originator and owner of this resort, who, by the way, has been severely censured and criticized for leasing it to colored people, and who has paid attention to these criticisms a few days ago, in reply to direct questions, Mr. Payne said: "The people need not be at all uneasy about Somerset Beach.
The place has a bright and promising future. We have decided plans, and I can tell you now that the place will be built up and developed, and the time is not far distant when it will be a source of great revenue to King George.
Capital is seeking investment there, and capital is coming there. Prominent business men of ample capital in Washington will soon make large investments there, and the class of people who will then be directly interested will aid materially in making Somerset Beach a large and important place. In addition to the two hotel buildings already on the grounds, a magnificent 30-room hotel will be erected there before long. Tell me to have patience. It takes time to build a town. I know what I am talking about when I say that Somerset Beach will be built up and developed, and will be occupied and operated by safe, high-toned people."

This brief statement by Mr. Payne will give renewed hope for the future of Somerset Beach, and will stimulate public confidence.

Mr. Bob Jennings, the "far-famed" young Potomac seine fisherman, has erected a splendid bridge across Passapattany Creek, where it intersects the Potomac River. The bridge is a powerful structure, and supplies a long-felt public need. Mr. Jennings is the first man who ever undertook the arduous task of bridging Passapatany Creek, and he has done the work at his own cost.

Mr. Theodore Mason, of Rockville, Md., spent this week with his father here.

Mr. William Pullen and Mrs. R. H.
Sorrent and Mrs. Annie E. Grigsby and daughters, who spent the summer at their country homestead here, have returned to Washington.

Miss Eva P. Taylor, of "Powhatan," near here, has gone to West Virginia to teach school.

Miss Nannie Minor, of this place, has returned to school at Bowling Green.

Judge John E. Mason, whose illness has been mentioned in this correspondence, is so much improved as to be able to resume his official duties.

Benjamin S. Minor, a prominent lawyer of Washington, is spending a week with his father, Mr. John T. Minor, at this place.

Mrs. Kate Kearney Henry, who has been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Judge Mason, at "Shelburne," near here, has returned to her home in Washington.

Miss Bell McCauley, of this neighborhood, has gone to Washington and Alexandria to visit friends and kindred.

Mrs. C. W. Rogers returned to her home here to-day after spending some time in Washington. She was accompanied home by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Julia Rogers.

CAROLINE AFFAIRS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BOWLING GREEN, VA., Sept. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Jesse have returned to their home in New York, after a visit of several weeks to relatives here. They were accompanied by Miss Julia Collins, sister of Mr. Jesse, who will remain with them this winter.

Mrs. Sitwell and son, of Bedford City, are guests this week of Mrs. John L.
White, at the Old Mansion.

Mrs. Rollins, of Stafford, is visiting at Mr. E. B. Smith's.

Mr. Dr. Smith, of Louisa, is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Columbia R. Pank.

Miss Pearl Smoot left this week for the Women's College, in Richmond, where she will be a student this season.

Mr. Charles E. Knopf, of Warren, Pa., who spends the hunting season here, arrived here this week.

Miss Daisy Sutton left this week for Kearney, to attend school, preparatory to taking up missionary work.

Tuesday a big fish fry was given at
